Product Description

Snow SUP Stand Up Paddle Boarding Skiing Snowboarding For Surfing Ski Or Tour All Round

The material of inflatable skis is similar to that of sup paddles. The main difference is that the PVC used in the former is a cold-resistant PVC material, which can be used in environments from minus 30 to minus 50. The price of this kind of PVC cloth on the market is 15-20 yuan/kg.

Inflatable skis can be used for skiing as well as paddling and surfing, but inflatable skis are not often used for skiing.

Playing around with paddleboard on the snow. Do you have any of the same questions?

1. Do you have a fin on or no fin?
 2. My inflatables all have the 2 side fins or 3 fins, do those matter?
 3. Do you inflate to max PSI? Or go lower?
 4. Do you use your leash? I don't really want to chase my board down the mountain after I inevitably fall off?
 5. Helmets? Seems like a good idea...haha!
 6. When do you bail? Is it a duck and roll kinda thing or snow angel yourself?
 7. Any other tips??
