1. The cotton inflatable tent has been specially treated with mildew resistance, which can make the rainproof and air permeability reasonable. But it is not recommended to use it in the rain. The sky is blocked, and the ground should also pay attention to waterproofing. It is recommended to use waterproof ground cloth to delay the tent bottom service life. If it gets wet with water, you need to wait for it to dry, and then collect it after cleaning up the dirt.

If there is slight mildew, it can be washed with diluted white vinegar solution (5 points of clean water + 1 White vinegar) do not use alkaline or irritating washing products to avoid damage to the tent Water-repellent coating for the canopy.

2. Pay attention when pumping up, don't pump too much, and use the configured pump.

3. The tent is treated with a water-repellent layer, and the cotton is designed to be waterproof and breathable sex provides balance to preserve comfort inside the tent.

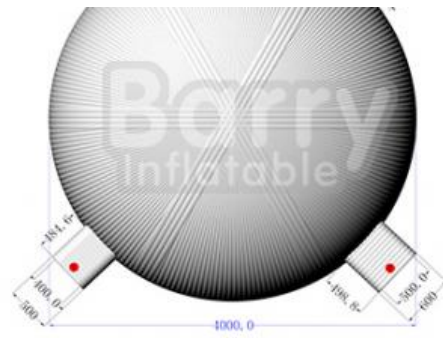

It is normal to feel a "fog" of parameters inside the tent due to hydrostatic pressure.

4. Please keep away from fire sources when using tents, tents are flammable fabrics.
