Product Description

Commercial big inflatable sport game human foosball court,inflatable foosball game

Description:

Human Table Football is one of the most exciting competitive games to hit the UK in recent years. It is a giant inflatable version of the old classic bar game. Can only move from side to side. If one person moves to the left, then all persons connected to that bar move left. The team to score the most goals in the allocated time wins. Our htf has aluminium poles and, as it goes straight to the ground, it is non slip. Our referee will hold "best of" games or whatever you, the client, requires on the day. The game is great fun for both competitors and spectators alike and is supplied with a referee and ball boy. Ideal for Team Building Event. Why not let us put together a package for your next team. Suitable for both indoor and outside use.
